

Online health check

STAFF

Because of the coronavirus we are not only obliged by the central government to ask our guests a number of health questions, but also to you as an employee. This must be done before the start of each shift. This is done to prevent contamination with the coronavirus as much as possible.

In order to exercise all due care, to guarantee your privacy and to avoid unnecessary delay at the start of your shift, we ask you to fill in the mandatory health check online. Each time, you will also be reminded of the protocol and the RIVM guidelines in force.

Scan the QR code with your mobile phone and after all questions have been answered, show your manager the screen with the result of this check.
